Discussions of liquidity and capital resources may be combined whenever the two topics are interrelated. Discussion of material changes should be from the end of the preceding financial year to the date of the most recent interim report.

The Management's Discussion and Analysis should disclose sufficient information to enable investors to judge:

- 1. The quality of earnings;
- 2. The likelihood that past performance is indicative of future performance; and
- 3. The issuer's general financial condition and outlook.

It should disclose information over and above that which is provided in the management accounts and should not be merely a description of the movements in the financial statements in narrative form or an otherwise uninformative series of technical responses. It should provide management's perspective of the company that enables investors to view the business from the vantage point of management.

The discussion should focus on aspects such as liquidity; capital resources; changes in financial condition; results of operations; material trends and uncertainties and measures taken or to be taken to address unfavourable trends; key performance indicators; and non-financial indicators.

General Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition

Total assets at the end of the reporting period amounted to $580.3 million, and this amount represents a net increase of $424,396 over the December 31, 2017 total.

For the nine-month period to March 31, 2018, the Bank's total asset base expanded by $2.2 million or 0.4%. The net increase for the period under review is mainly as a result of net activities within the customer deposit base.

When compared to the total reported at December 31, 2017, total loans and advances increased by $5.8 million or 2.6%. The quarter's net increase is due largely to credit facility ($5.0 million) which was extended to a local statutory body in the month of March 2018.

As at March 31, 2018 the total of deposits held on behalf of customers stood at $345.7 million, a net increase of $9.8 million over the previous quarter's total. The main contributor to the net increase over the three month period is the fixed deposit account category which increased by approximately $4.3 million due to new accounts. Incoming funds for these accounts were transferred from other local banking institutions.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Provide a narrative explanation of the following (but not limited to):

- i) The reporting issuer's financial condition covering aspects such as liquidity, capital resources, changes in financial condition and results of operations.
- ii) Any known trends, demands, commitments, events or uncertainties that will result in, or that are reasonably likely to result in, the issuer's liquidity increasing or decreasing in any material way. If a deficiency is identified, indicate the course of action that the reporting issuer has taken or proposes to take to remedy the deficiency.
- iii) The issuer's internal and external sources of liquidity and any material unused sources of liquid assets.
- iv) Provisions contained in financial guarantees or commitments, debt or lease agreements or other arrangements that could trigger a requirement for an early payment, additional collateral support, changes in terms, acceleration of maturity, or the creation of an additional financial obligation such as adverse changes in the issuer's financial ratios, earnings, cash flows or stock price or changes in the value of underlying, linked or indexed assets.

- v) Circumstances that could impair the issuer's ability to continue to engage in transactions that have been integral to historical operations or are financially or operationally essential or that could render that activity commercially impracticable such as the inability to maintain a specified level of earnings, earnings per share, financial ratios or collateral.
- vi) Factors specific to the issuer and its markets that the issuer expects will affect its ability to raise short-term and long-term financing, guarantees of debt or other commitment to third parties, and written options on non-financial assets.
- vii) The relevant maturity grouping of assets and liabilities based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. Commentary should provide information about effective periods and the way the risks associated with different maturity and interest profiles are managed and controlled.
- viii) The issuer's material commitments for capital expenditures as of the end of the latest fiscal period, and indicate the general purposes of such commitments and the anticipated source of funds needed to fulfil such commitments.
- ix) Any known material trends, favorable or unfavorable, in the issuer's capital resources, including any expected material changes in the mix and relative cost of capital resources, considering changes between debt, equity and any off-balance sheet financing arrangements.

Discussion of Liquidity and Capital Resources

As at March 31, 2018, the Bank's portfolio of liquid assets stood at $120.8 million. When compared to the total on record at December 31, 2017, this amount declined by $0.8 million. The net decline in liquid assets for the third quarter of the financial year is due to the utilization of liquid assets to secure investments in longer term securities, with higher yields.
Liquid assets refer to those items with a tenure not exceeding three (3) months. The main components of the liquid asse portfolio for the period under review are: correspondent accounts, short term deposits with regional and international financial institutions as well as short-term treasury bill investments via local and regional government bodies.
The Bank's liquidity position is constantly monitored, and the executive management meets regularly to discuss the financial institutions as well as short-term treasury bill investments via local and regional government bodies.

- i) Disclosures concerning transactions, arrangements and other relationships with unconsolidated entities or other persons that are reasonably likely to materially affect liquidity or the availability of, or requirements for capital resources.
- ii) The extent of the issuer's reliance on off-balance sheet arrangements should be described fully and clearly where those entities provide financing, liquidity, market or credit risk support, or expose the issuer to liability that is not reflected on the face of the financial statements.
- iii) Off-balance sheet arrangements such as their business purposes and activities, their economic substance, the key terms and conditions of any commitments, the initial on-going relationship with the issuer and its affiliates and the potential risk exposures resulting from its contractual or other commitments involving the off-balance sheet arrangements.

There should be a discussion of operating considerations and unusual events, which have influenced results for the reporting period. Additionally, any trends or uncertainties that might materially affect operating results in the future should be discussed.

Provide a narrative explanation of the following (but not limited to):

- i) Any unusual or infrequent events or transactions or any significant economic changes that materially affected the amount of reported income from continuing operations and, in each case, the extent to which income was so affected.
- ii) Significant components of revenues or expenses that should, in the company's judgment, be described in order to understand the issuer's results of operations.
- iii) Known trends or uncertainties that have had or that the issuer reasonably expects will have a material favorable or unfavorable impact on net sales or revenues or income from continuing operations.
- iv) Known events that will cause a material change in the relationship between costs and revenues (such as price increases, costs of labour or materials), and changes in relationships should be disclosed.
- v) The extent to which material increases in net sales or revenues are attributable to increases in prices or to increases in the volume or amount of goods or services being sold or to the introduction of new products or services.
- vi) Matters that will have an impact on future operations and have not had an impact in the past.
- vii) Matters that have had an impact on reported operations and are not expected to have an impact upon future operations
- viii) Off-balance sheet transactions, arrangements, obligations (including contingent obligations), and other relationships that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on the registrant's financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources.
- ix) Performance goals, systems and, controls.

Overview of Results of Operations

During the three month period ended March 31, 2018, The Bank recorded net profits in the amount of $440,759. This performance increased the year-to-date total to $5.3 million and this amount exceeds the March 31, 2017 amount by $1.1 million The Bank sarried $4.1 million in interest income for the three month period to March 31, 2018. The main contributor was the loans and advances category which accounted for $3.2 million of the gross total. Interest earnings are also generated via the Bank's portfolio of investments with banks, financial institutions and local and regional government institutions. Total interest expense for the three months ending March 31, 2018 is $1.9 million, increasing the cumulative total for the nine month period to $5.4 million. When compared to the earnings position one year ago, total interest expense declined by $142,247. The year-over-year net decline is mainly as a result of the ongoing activities aimed at reducing interest rates on fixed deposit accounts upon maturity.
During the third quarter of the financial year, the Bank recorded gross operating income in the amount of $3.7 million, thereby increasing the cumulative total for the year-to-date to $10.6 million. This amount however represents a net decline of $3.7 million from the total which was recorded at March 31, 2017. The decline in performance is due to the reclassification of operating income for the subsidiary Bank of Nevis International Limited to net profit for the year from discontinued operations.
A total of $2.9 million in operating expenses was recorded during the second quarter of the financial year. The resulting total at December 31, 2017 stood at $5.2 million. The main component of expenses within this category is the general and administrative expense category which contributed $4.04 million or 77.7% of the cumulative total.

3. Disclosure about Risk Factors.

Provide a discussion of the risk factors that may have an impact on the results from operations or on the financial conditions. Avoid generalised statements. Typical risk factors include untested products, cash flow and liquidity problems, dependence on a key supplier or customer, management inexperience, nature of business, absence of a trading market (specific to the securities of the reporting issuer), etc. Indicate if any risk factors have increased or decreased in the time interval between the previous and current filing.

The Bank is faced with diverse risks in the conduct of its daily operations. Risk is defined as the possibility of losses of profits foregone, which may be caused by internal or external factors. Some of the major risks facing the Bank are outlined below.
Credit Risk: Credit Risk: Site most predominant risk factor within the Bank's environment. This represents the risk of incurring a financial loss in the event that any of the Bank's customers or counterparties falls to fulfill their contractual obligations to the Bank's credit risk arises mainly from the loans and advances portfolio which at March 31, 2018 constituted 40.0% of the Bank's total assets. The Bank is also exposed to other credit risks arising from investments in debt securities and other exposures from its trading activities.
Foreign Exchange Risk: The effects of fluctuations in the prevailing foreign currency exchange rates (foreign exchange risk) is another risk factor that significantly affects the Bank, due to the fact that a significant amount of the Bank's assets and liabilities are held in Eastern Caribbean dollars which is the local currency. Most of the assets in foreign currencies are held in United States dollars. The exchange rate of the Eastern Caribbean dollar to the United States dollar has been formally pegged at EC$2.70 = US$1.00 since 1976. Assets and liabilities are also held in Euro, Pound Sterling, Canadian and Barbados currencies, the exposure to which is not material to the Bank's financial position.
Market Risk Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices. This exposure arises via select assets within the investment portfolio, which at March 31, 2018 amounted to EC$78.1 million or 13.5% of the total asset base. The market risks arising from the investment portfolio are continuously monitored by the investment and Risk Management Committees and by Management.
Liquidity risk let the first its the risk that the Bank will be unable to meet its obligations when they fall due. The liquidity position of the Bank is closely monitored on a daily basis, and the executive management meets on a weekly basis to discuss the position as well as recent trends and projections. All December 31, 2017, the Bank's portfolio of liquid assets amounted to EC$120.8 million or 20.8% of total assets.
